

Auto Scammer

Debbie has become so well-known with the fake Army Scammers, that they have come up with a way to get back at her baiting skills. Another fake army boy contacts me and starts the usual sales spiel. After chatting with this fool and listening to his nonsensical responses, I see that I am talking to a robot with programmed responses.

Tony Anderson: hi

how are you doing over there?

nice to meet you

debbiedawson0404: who are you and where did you get my contact from?

Tony Anderson: are you there with me?????? am Peter by name if you are here just say hi to me i will like to tell you more about me debbiedawson0404: where did you get my contact from?

Tony Anderson: from netlog

debbiedawson0404: I am not on that site

Tony Anderson: nice to meet you once again

debbiedawson0404: you must have the wrong person

Tony Anderson: nope

Tony Anderson: just talk to me for a while

To date, I have had a few of these. I really don't see the purpose, unless it is just to keep us scambaiters busy because you can see by the responses that it could never hold a real conversation longer than a minute or two.
