

Back In Time

No, I am not getting lazy, but it seems the lads are by using this old and out-dated scam letter. I couldn't help to rip into him for being such a freaking imbecile. Needless to say, he never responded to me again.

Subject: please take note that i have been able to stop the perpetrators from stealing your fund(Thomas Payne)

I AM THE Executive Director Oceanic Bank of Nigeria PLC. I have urgent secret information for you, which will be of vital help to you, I cannot keep it further as my conscience reminds of my duties as one who believes in equity and fair play, my boss and some of his colleagues from several other ministries who are assigned with the duty of transferring this money to you have conspired together to divert your fund to another account and the strategy they employed was by demanding several charges from you, all the demands are illegal just to frustrate you to abandon your funds. My boss is currently working with you with a fake commercial bank claimed to be in London UK in order to perfect his evil activities. He has counterparts in almost every country like London , Spain , Holland

Taiwan , Hon Kong, and Indonesia etc. This will then open an avenue for them to tag your payment as unclaimed payment and will have it transfer to their own coded account overseas. As a matter of fact, my boss (Dr. Richard Agu) the Executive Director Oceanic Bank of Nigeria PLC. and his colleagues instructed me to change your payment details with the one they have just nominated for immediate transfer, note that they will frustrate you for ever if you continue dealing with them because they will never do the right thing since the quest for too much worldly gains has blinded their sense of reasoning, am in charge of crediting comptroller to infuse all those information but i am purposely delaying as my mindset does not accept such evil. I can release this fund to you if I am sure that I will be protected because immediately I release it, I will have to leave office, if I do not my life will be in danger. This money will be transferred to their private account on before 30th of August 2009.

If you are willing to get your payment direct into your account or any other means, call or email me and reconfirm your account particulars, other related information if you chooses other legitimate ways forward your contact details immediately on the receipt of this message. At the receipt of this letter kindly call me and forward your confidential cell phone number to me but don't expose it, even those you are currently dealing with both locally and internationally are agents of my boss so desist from them now or you will remain frustrated in their cage, they have contacts all over the world but as far as i am concerned your funds will not be tampered. Kindly consider this secret information as highly privileged and should be kept till the end of time as having it divulged is a great risk on my side, if you're not interested, do not bother to reply, otherwise your prompt response will do you a lot of good by having the right things done in your payment files and documents which was irregular zed by Dr. Richard Agu and some unknown crooks. You should have asked why after all the series of fees you paid yet the transaction was still not concluded, is a deliberate act to frustrate you out of the business. Call me as soon as you go through this secret message. For further clarifications, do not hesitate to contact my office. Looking forward to your immediate response. Yours faithfully, Rev. Mack George Assistant to the Executive Director (OCEANIC BANK PLC). Personal Cell Phone: +2348035-94-36-93

I just read your email and I found a few problems with it. First of all, you state that YOU are the Executive Director Oceanic Bank of Nigeria PLC. Then, in the very next paragraph, YOU state that your boss is the Executive Director Oceanic Bank of Nigeria PLC. Are you confused or incredibly stupid? Or both? Read it in red down below (above). Might want to inquire about that – it helps knowing what your job is.

The other problem is that you say that this money will be transferred and stolen by them before August 30, 2009. That was eight months ago moron, do you know how to read a calendar? The money is already gone according to your email. Did you try reading your email when you wrote it???

And for your information, I paid no money to anyone. I don't know where you get your information from, but it is as faulty as your spelling, grammar, logic, and comprehension of simple facts.

Thomas

Oh yeah, it also seems that Lloyd's Bank misspelled their Bank Name in their own Google free email account. Pretty fucking stupid of them, wouldn't ya say...?

Yes, that was the end. I never heard from him again, not even insults. I probably could have kept this one going a while and could have been really funny, but sometimes it just feels so good ripping into someone out of the blue like that!
