

Dora The Anal Explorer

This is another Romance Scam that took place purely in a Chat Room. I got “her” name from my colleagues from the scambaiting bulletin board, so I thought I would give her a try.

She sends me these pics halfway through the char session why I realize that she isn't who I was trying to chat with. The pictures were an attempt to entice me...

The reason that she cut to the chase, so to speak, is because she may have been sick of being baited. After the poster in the bulletin board posted her email address, many people reposted their results in baiting her (through email). I wanted to get her in a Chat Room but by that time she had probably already been mass-baited by the rest!
