

Relentless

This moron has contacted me no less than 8 times. Once one of his scams fail, he contacts me from a new profile. Sometimes only an hour or so after the last. Every one is an army guy from Dallas, Texas. I decide to throw a twist in here and tell him I don't like army guys. I know he is the same as the others, because I will see his multiple personas online at the same time and they log in and out at the exact same time.

In this chat, he continues begging for me to help him, but he makes the mistake of begging me to help him from his other fake profile that he insisted that he did not have. Once I point out to him, he is begging me from the wrong profile, he logs out. This scammer is not done with me yet, but he has not contacted me in days, and I still see his various fake profiles online.
