

Sergeant Soulmate

This idiot contacts me in Yahoo Chat and although his name says Jay Morgan, his Yahoo Profile ID is Sgt. Soulmate, which I think nothing of at first. Of course that is before he tries to tell me that it is his real name...lol. These moronic scammers think they are being so clever using these suggestive names to make them look sincere, when the reality is that it makes them look even more unbelievable. I have met "Americans" who said their name was "Blessing", and "Innocent", and "Goodluck" – in their simple scammer minds, they think this makes them look more believable and honest.
