

Egg McMoron

This was a short bait and not real eventful, but the main reason I wanted to include it was because this is an attempt from the idiot from the scambait entitled "Is Finance The Right Word?" You see, I was chatting with The butt munch from Gills Finance (remember, the Finance Company that has no money and has to borrow it from random people on the internet?), when I receive this first email in this scam. In his second email, he mentions that he did a search on "Executives" on the internet and that's how he found Debbie. How would he know Debbie was an Executive? You see, Debbie just got done telling Gills Finance that she was an "Executive Administrative Assistant" in the chat session. And the Chat session was going nowhere because Debbie told Gill she wasn't interested in helping his bankrupt company, and then when Gill turned on the charm and romance and sent photographs to Debbie of a white man, Debbie informed Gill that she only dates black men...lol. So this was Gills attempt of hooking Debbie with a new persona...Yes, I traced both IP Addresses – Gill and McRoberts and they were both the exact same – so either these two different people were using the computer at the same time or they are the same person...

Attn:Debbie Dawson,

Thank you Immensely for your email, I will reveal to you the truth about this proposal. The step to follow is for you to present yourself as the beneficiary of the funds, for us to obtain the court affidavit establishing the fact that you are the authentic business partner with all legal Backings. Once the claim is made the transfer will commence since we are here to process the claims and transfer the money to you.

I will also send to you the Ownership Certificate, this is the letter, which we used in locating you as the beneficiary of the Funds owing to a business relation. The Ownership Certificate signed by the Probate Registrar will clear your involvement in this transaction. As you can see this is a simple operation and all that is required from you is sincerity. Good conscience and honesty to justify this trust, which I have imposed on you. What has to be done must be done very well and that is secret of success. We must be determined and be of good courage.

Again the success of this transaction depends on the Secrecy and the confidentiality of the said transaction. Do not allow another person to know this not even your best friends. Due to the nature of this transaction I will advise you not to disclose this transaction to anybody related to you. The reason is that human beings are so cruel that they can go to any length to destroy one's fortune. It is the duties of the bank to contact your bank after all approval have been made to inform them about the funds with all documents of proof. What do you mean it is not illegal? Are you telling me that it is LEGAL to LIE and pose as someone's next of kin to STEAL money that does not belong to us? Are you freaking kidding me? Listen to what you are saying.

Debbie Dawson

A number of days pass, but I decide I am not through messing with this clown.

I guess from your lack of response that what you were proposing was illegal. I am not interested in anything illegal - I have a good job and would not jeopardize my career like this.

Debbie Dawson

Dear Debbie Dawson,

I did not respond to your email because you think this is hoax and for a transaction of this kind I do not want to waste any of my time with someone who has no trust and confidence in the transaction.

In my previous emails to you,I explained the source of the said funds to you and informed you that I needed someone that will act as the next of kin to the deceased.Your response was skeptical so I want to reassure you that this proposal is not illegal and we are not trying to steal nobody's money.The owner of the funds died in a plane crash and I sent the link to you to confirm this fact.He has no next of kin and I do not want this money to go into the government's treasury,this is why I was in contact with you in good faith to see how we can handle this transaction together.

If you think about it and feel you cannot do it then no problem.I surely will get someone that can help me with this transaction.

Regards,

William McRoberts

What you are proposing is illegal. You cannot lie and forge papers to say that I am next of kin and insist that it is legal.

Debbie Dawson

Dear Debbie Dawson,

Ok if you think so.I will not be able to work with you.

Regards,

William McRoberts

Yes, it is illegal which makes you a criminal. Don't contact me again.

Debbie Dawson

FUK YOU GOAT

William McRoberts

Wow, you get really upset with people when they don't want to be involved in your criminal activities. Maybe if you would have gotten an education, you wouldn't have to steal money that doesn't belong to you. Ever think of that, cheese-whiz?

Debbie Dawson

UR A IDOIT.DONT CONTACT ME AGAIN OR I WUILL IMFORM THE POLICE AND HAVE YOU ARESTED FOR FRUAD.

William McRoberts

Lol, that has to be the funniest email I have ever read? You are going to call the police on me because I won't help you steal money from the bank? I knew you were a criminal, but you proved yourself to be a fool as well. See what I mean about needing education? If you were educated, you wouldn't say stupid things like that. Go ahead, call the police, you dolt- let me know what they say when they toss you in jail for being a complete and utter moron, as well as a criminal.

Debbie

No more responses...I have still been trying to talk to Gill (Where's my check?"), but he hasn't responded either...
