

Gifted Gentile

Typical Rich, Dying, Philanthropist Scam where someone contacts a random stranger from the internet to give all their money to. I can't believe that people actually fall for this – especially when you have idiots like this barrister working the scam. This moron didn't know how to respond when I just said that I would come to England to deal with it in person – so he just ignored me.

Why did you decide to donate some money to a random stranger on the internet instead of a genuine charity like the NAAWP, NAMBLA, or the National Institute for Gifted Gentile Episcopalian Retired Scholars. All are worthy charities - so why do you choose to give this money to someone you have never met, know nothing about, that you contacted from the internet.

Please explain this.

Thomas

There was no attachment to this email. You never responded to my inquiry about coinciding the dates when I am on my business trip in England. This is what I have been waiting for. Please refer to my last email copied below;

I will be in London for business so it will not be necessary to courier the bank draft to the United States. Let me know when is a good time for you to finish this and I will arrange my business in London to correspond with the same dates. This will be better for all.

Please resend the form and let me know when a good date to schedule my trip is.

Thanks for your email, Prior to your question I will be in London for business so it will not be necessary to courier the bank draft to the United States. Let me know when is a good time for you to finish this and I will arrange my business in London to correspond with the same dates. This will be better for all.

the only document that is expected to be given to you before the funds gets to you is the Beneficiary form which is already given to you and you have to filled it, immediately you pay the courier fee as requested the other documents will be forwarded to you together with your cheque of 10.5 Million dollars.

If you will prefer to come over here to claim the funds that's on you but it will cost you more than the requested amount that's why I requested that the best is to make you have the cheque via courier. I shall await your swift response in regards to the above email.

Yours Sincerely
Barr Walter Ashdown.

I don't understand this email you sent me at all. I have never shown skepticism, I was committed to helping you. All I asked was when could I schedule my trip to England to finish this business? I have asked you 3 times to give me a good date because I have to finish some other business in London, and you have yet to furnish me with details.

*Maria has ask me if you have gotten your money and i told her is like
*you do not want it cos you are making this transaction back.

This statement does not make sense – what is it supposed to mean? This hold up is all your fault, not mine.

Thomas

Hello,

How are you doing today? I have been waiting for you to update me on the present development.

Warm Regards

Barr Walter Ashdown

*****

I have asked you 4 times now when was a good time to schedule the trip to London and you refused to answer and just stopped answering altogether so there is no “present development”.

Thomas

*****

Hello, How are you doing today? I have been waiting for you to send the bank and docment fees so we can proceed with the tranfer.

Warm Regards

Barr Walter Ashdown

*****

Are you stupid? Do you know who this is or do you have me confused with someone else? I am still waiting for you to let me know when a good time to schedule a trip to England would be to complete this transaction, you freaking moron. Do you understand English? I haven't heard from you in over two weeks and you want me to hurry? You are about the most incompetent lawyer I have ever seen.

*****

Hello, How are you doing today? Before you come to England you need to send document fees so we can proceed with the transfer. This must be done fast or the bank will confiscate the fund in question. Please send the fees urgently

Warm Regards
Barr Walter Ashdown

*****

You refuse to answer one simple question for close to a month, and then don't answer my emails for over two weeks and you are telling me to hurry? You are a complete and utter moron. I will talk to Mrs. Maria about you – I refuse to work with you any longer because you are incredibly stupid and pathetic. Did you get your law degree from a Cracker Jack box? I would spit on you if I met you. I would piss on your grave if you were dead. I would slap your mother for having such a brain dead, idiot for a son. I would cut your children's throat if I saw them so there would be no more idiots growing up like you.

Thanks,
Thomas

*****

Wow, no more responses? Maria's email was shut down so I couldn't continue any more with her, so I emailed the idiot barrister about a week later and he would not answer my emails...
