Dear Greg,
Thank you for telling me so much about you.
As for me, I used to be a happy girl. But I have not known any happiness for over five years now as a result of the death of my father. He was everything for me and I have never been able to be without him.
I am just happy now that you are there for me.
Reading your mails alone means hope and courage for me.

thank you
amina

No, I don't hate you, but you are very, very ugly. I actually threw up a little when I saw your picture. I don't think we should pursue this relationship any further, and I'm sorry if that seems mean, but you are not what I'm looking for in a woman. I wish you the best, and I hope you find what you're looking for but it's definitely not me.

Dear Greg,
Thank you for your candid expression. But I am not looking for a man any way. I have a problem that I want to share with you and helping me is just what I needed.

What do you mean you aren't looking for a man??? Isn't that why you contacted me from the Personals? So what are you saying, that you just trying to tease me? Not only are you ugly as a baboon, you are very cruel...

Dear Greg,
Thank you so much for your comments. But I know that I look better than you and more human too. I do not know if this is your manner or perhaps you are in a bad mood. Any way, I am praying for you

No, I'm not in a bad mood, and I'm sorry if I was a little harsh. I just don't understand what you were doing - you contact me from the personals, and then tell me you weren't looking for a man - then what were you doing? Are you telling me I was wasting my time looking for a maid? I'll tell you though, if I hire a filthy, degenerate savage from Africa as my maid, she better be good-looking and not look like the creature from the black lagoon.

If you weren't looking for a man why did you contact me - oh wait, let me guess - you're in a refugee camp and you need me to access a strong box that's lodged at a security company with millions of dollars. Am I close? You'll split the money, 35% for me and 60% for you, with 5% going for any expenses that will be incurred. Of course, I'll have to fork out a bunch of money up front, right? But it's 100% risk free though.

While you're praying for me, think about why the whole world hates you and why is it that everything bad in this world is rooted in Africa. War, disease, AIDS, crime, etc - all from Africa. Yes, I know, United States has a lot of crime - all committed from you savages who we shouldn't have brought to this country as slaves.

Anywho, have a nice day and say hi to all your internet buddies sitting next to you at the cafe...

Greg,

Its nice meeting a basket mouth like you. I saw that you deserve shit and that is why I gave it to you. I wonder if you are a MAN and why you are so deprived of a common sense. Who are the Americans. I have never seen one. But what were your fore fathers doing in the coast of Africa if not seeking who will feed the colourless world you call America. I wonder who would have been feeding you if not the wretched and deprived Africans. I will tell you who the Americans really are after your election. But tell the BUSHES never to RIG VOTES as he did before so that we can know the strength of USA. It is a pity that you are biting the finger that feeds you. America is not a nation because it ca never be without those you call niggers. So be wise ok

That has to be the funniest thing I have ever heard - an Internet Scam Artist lecturing me on world morals and politics. Very enjoyable! Listening to your views on politics was very amusing. You talk about what it takes to be a man? Obviously, in your book that means sitting in an internet cafe, with a bunch of other smelly savages, lying to people on the computer to try to steal money from them because you are too lazy and stupid to get a real job.

As for the whole slavery thing, I'm with you there - I wish my forefathers would have never taken your filthy people from that disgusting, worthless, AIDS-infested continent called Africa.

Anywho, nice talking to you, keep up the mediocre work, and for God's sake take a shower.

Greg
