

Loans A Plenty

It is funny how many people contact Debbie at random and think she needs a loan. A lot of them will I'm her in Yahoo and start discussing "the loan she applied for" before they have ever talked to her before. Some of the "loan officers" will say Debbie's name was on a list for people seeking a loan or some nonsense like that. I even had one guy tell me that the FBI told him to give me a loan. This was one of the many that I let go early.
