

Ogun Will Strike

I have taken a break from traditional scam-baiting by email and went after the fools from the free dating websites. This idiot was one of the many from Dating72.com – in my opinion, 80 % of the profiles on that site are scammers or porn spammers. This is one of the shorter scam baits compared to my others. I have some where I have been chatting with them for weeks – this was only one chat session (45 minutes).

This idiot logs out. This is common to almost all of my "Romance Scambaits" from the free dating sites – they are a student or "buyer" of African Arts, textiles, etc. I still fail to see why these morons try to pose as full-blooded Americans in these scams. The language is so obvious...
