

Success at Last

This was a small part of a larger scam with Oreta Thomas, a millionaire on her deathbed who wants me to disburse all of her money to charity (motherless babies homes...). This is the transcript with the first lawyer out of three. I don't know what their problem was; you would think that the lawyer would have wanted to get on with it. I ended up firing this lawyer, and the two after it. Miss Thomas still emails me occasionally (about 1 year later) trying to start up again - even though she was at "death's door". In her last email, she begged for $200.00 for "medications" because the pain was unbearable - I guess she forgot she was a millionaire.

What is wrong with you? Do you not know how to read emails? I do not have a passport and I already sent you my driver's license. It is like I am dealing with children. I will send my driver's license again; let me know if you are not smart enough to open it.

Greg

forward your passport or forget it.

You said "send your passport or forget it" after I told you 3 times that I don't have one. I don't wish to continue this transaction any longer with you working on it - I informed my partner already, if my partner insists on using your services, then my partner can find someone else to help them. Either way, I am done with you - you are way too stupid to represent us in this matter.

Greg

You need to send us your passport so we can varify your identity to be in this transaction. We do not like when you insult us like so.Please send us the passport

Don

Then forget it

I told you I did not have a Passport 3 times already, that's why I sent my driver's license...

Greg

If you are fully interested you must first of all meet all legal requires. we need to validate you personal documents.

Act properly please.

Best Regards,

Don

You should be insane i have seen it. I can forget the job because of your lack of co-operation.

I will not speak with you again. Bye

My lack of cooperation? Was it me who doesn't bother to read their emails? I told you numerous times I don't have a passport and you were too stupid to understand that. Let me remind you, it was I that fired you from this job because you are an incompetent moron. "SUCCESSWINNERS" Law Chambers??? I cannot believe that you have ever won a court case in your life because you have to be the dumbest person I have ever spoken with. Read thru your emails - you will see that I tell you time and time again that I don't have a Passport. Can you read? Did you go to school? Take my advice - change your Law Firm's name to "Incompetent Buffoon Law Chambers" - it's a lot more realistic.

Greg

This is "Oreta Thomas", the millionaire on her deathbed. She keeps re-appearing, trying to keep the scam going. I don't know if it's the same person, but she obviously doesn't realize that she has been wasting away on her deathbed for about a year now.

This was a poorly constructed scam - the scammer gave me a harder time with the whole passport deal than I gave him. I guess it's possible that he realized my Driver's License was fake - but you think that would have just ended it.

Did I get baited by a scammer?
