

Texas Soldiers

Now this started on Dating72.com – Debbie had a profile on there and was meeting scammers to play with and tagging their comments on their profiles so that other users on the dating site would know they were scammers. I had three other people helping me do this. Anywho, I noticed on the fake Army Guy Profiles on Dating72.com, that all of them said they were from Dallas, Texas. Well, the last 10 or fifteen scammers I have talked to in chat sessions have all been from Dallas, Texas (excluding maybe one). Debbie's profile was deleted from Dating72.com months ago, so how are all these soldiers from Texas, currently in Afghanistan, getting her contact info? Hmmm?

Jack Ibrahim: <ding>

Jack Ibrahim: hey

debbiedawson0404: who are you

Jack Ibrahim: <ding>

Jack Ibrahim: i am jack pls wat is ur name

Jack Ibrahim: i am working as us army debbiedawson0404: where did you get my contact from and what do you want?

Jack Ibrahim: i am from us in texas

Jack Ibrahim: and where u from debbiedawson0404: where did you get my contact from and what do you want?

Jack Ibrahim: i think netlog debbiedawson0404: never heard of it debbiedawson0404: none of your business - I don't chat with random strangers on the internet

Jack Ibrahim: i am not cuz i met u and u gve me ur id

Now he says that I gave it to him. Now I also know that this scammer is the same scammer I talked to previously under a different profile. First of all, he ends every (most) sentence with an exclamation point (which did not save in the chat log for some reason). The American soldier I talked to before would reply "YES" every time I typed "LOL". He finally asked what LOL meant, in which I did tell him and from that point on he would get mad when I laughed at things he said. This fool here knows what LOL means (now) and gets mad when I laugh at him!

debbiedawson0404: I did not - and you just said someone else gave you my id, you idiot

Jack Ibrahim: pls i am nt an idiot
