

The Marrying Man

This moron contacted me from Dating72.com after I posted the comment that he was a 419 scammer on his profile. He said in an email how what I said wasn't fair and that he wants to get to know me. He is online from a mobile device and tries chatting with me about 5 different times but keeps getting cut off. He would ask something, then not respond when I answered, so the last question he asked was if I had any kids, and I said "Yeah, I have 12". This is where this next chat session starts.
